

Rebate Services

Whether you are processing rebates in-house, or need a full-service rebate management solution, Coleman | Hines has a service to help you make the most of your rebate dollars. RebateManager™ is our full-service solution. RebateCheck® is the most comprehensive rebate database available.

RebateManager™

Unclaimed rebates are money left on the table. Without a dedicated rebate processing department, opportunities can be missed. Changes in programs, and lengthy applications can reduce the number of rebates your internal team is capturing. RebateManager™ is your full-service rebate management solution.

Our Process

Coleman | Hines is the point-of contact between our clients and their vendors, suppliers and utility companies. We do the following to ensure all incentives are obtained, and we take pride in our high level of client care.

- Screen for opportunities
- Notify utility of intent to participate
- Submit all applications and documentation
- Follow-up with all parties upon installation
- Close-out all available opportunities quickly
- Deliver monthly status reports

Reporting

At Coleman | Hines, we believe in total transparency. You will receive a monthly status report which includes all active rebates in your pipeline, all rebates captured to date, as well as projects that were not rebate-able. All active rebates are tracked by status, so that you can track exactly where each rebate is in the process.
